CALL FOR DESIGNER!

State of the Pod is Cornell's first and only student-driven podcast production team. We cover the emerging issues in science and tech, with an emphasis on their ethical and social implications. We're a team of motivated and passionate storytellers committed to crafting well-researched, original episodes that bridge the gap between the humanities and technical disciplines to make science issues more approachable to broader audiences.

About Us

- 11 episodes released
- Available on spotify, google podcasts, apple podcasts
- Partnered with Milstein & Investigative Biology Laboratories
- Currently producing season 3

Applying to SOTP

Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until Feb. 21st. Potential candidates will be contacted by Feb 25th for interviews.

please email your resume, artwork samples or portfolio, and brief statement of interest to sotp.cornell@gmail.com
